

Environmental Policy

We care for the environment

At UNSW Press we care about the environment and promote sustainable objectives across all of our operations.

By implementing this environmental policy we seek to manage aspects of our business that have an impact on the earth's ecosystems. We are all responsible for contributing a little effort to make a better world for this and future generations.

Our environmental policy will drive initiatives to:

- ✓ reduce the use of energy, water and other materials
- ✓ minimise the creation of waste and manage recycling programs
- ✓ work towards cleaner production with our supply chain partners both domestically and internationally
- ✓ provide environmental training to employees
- ✓ introduce sustainable transport for employees and partners
- ✓ print all books on paper using fibre supplied from plantation or sustainably managed forests
- ✓ optimise print runs to minimise resource consumption and waste
- ✓ reduce greenhouse gas emissions in all our operations

In all aspects of our business we will comply with relevant legislation and strive for continual improvement in our environmental performance. Our training and communications engage with our employees and partners so they are conscious of environmental impacts both at work and in their daily lives.
